

the "do not call" laws are the only good thing i can think of that the fcc has done in recent years. please do not dilute it or require changes to more strict state laws. the "do not call" response from consumers has been overwhelming, don't ignore us.